

An evening with Angélica Choc

How a small Mayan village is taking on a mining giant

Angélica Choc is an indigenous Mayan Q'eqchi' from El Estor, Guatemala and one of the plaintiffs in a groundbreaking court case, Choc v. HudBay Minerals Inc.

As featured in the film Defensora, Angélica has filed a lawsuit in Ontario courts against Canadian mining company HudBay Minerals over the brutal killing of her husband Adolfo Ich.

Angélica will share her story and her community's fight for justice.

Friday, March 20, 2015

7:00 – 9:00 p.m.

First Metropolitan United Church, Room 119
932 Balmoral Road, Victoria

Sponsored by the Mining Justice Action Committee
<http://mjacvictoria.ca>

<https://www.facebook.com/MiningJusticeActionCommittee>